

For you

Music by Olivia Trummer and Nicola Angelucci

Lyrics by Olivia Trummer

It takes time to understand the song that's playing in your heart that can take you to a land, to a whole world that's set apart

For you to discover

For you to recover

For you to uncover

what no other can see

It takes courage to follow the unique stream inside of you leading out of the shallow towards yourself and your own truth

For you to discover

For you to recover

For you to uncover

who no other can be

Don't be afraid of yourself, you've got nothing to lose

Life means exactly to delve, into your bliss and blues

Follow your heart, keep walking towards the frameless door

And there'll be more and more

For you to discover

For you to recover

For you to uncover

It takes time to understand the song that's playing in your heart

For you
