

All is well

(music + lyrics by Olivia Trummer)

You're turning the clouds into wide white wonders
You're turning the rain into sunflowers' paradise
You're making my day, stealing a tempests' thunder
You're making me feel like today's made of sunlit skies

You're showing me rainbows bright and vivid as can be
When you're with me I close my eyes because my heart can see that
All is well, all is worthwhile
All is well, all is worthwhile
All is well, all is worthwhile

(from the album „Fly Now“)
