

Watching the moon

(music + lyrics by Olivia Trummer)

It seemed like the stars were watching me watching you watching the moon
And the moon and the stars set all aglow both above and here below

We danced to the music of the night played by silent moonlight
We reached out for the moon as easily as we did for each other

(from the album „Fly Now“)